

Tatopani to Naya Pul

Refreshingly, there are currently no roads in this section except for the plans near Birethanti, just north of Naya Pul.

If you have time, you could divert through Tadapani, Ghandruk, Landruk and out via Phedi. It is a wonderful route.

The 'standard' route to finish the Circuit is to climb to Ghorepani and then directly down to Naya Pul, via Ulleri.

There has been significant work going on at the bridge in Birethanti to allow vehicles to cross. The plan is to forge a road to Ghorepani in the long term.

The traditional finish of the Circuit. From here it is 90 min drive to Pokhara.

